

Big Change Jan. 2007

Words/Lyrics/Music: Kathyjo Varco

What can I say
You're just the kind made to adore
Some kind of fate?
Something brought you 'round here to my door just in time
Already feels much better

You took an ordinary day
And you turned it into so much more
No amount of rain gonna douse the fire
That was born from this love Don't think it gets much better, but I could be wrong...

'Cause I'm singing out loud in the strangest places
Nobody on earth would believe, could conceive,
that we'd be alright
You bring a big change

We gotta blow out of here, enjoy the midday sun We'll take it slow, steady as she goes I know that it's gonna be fun together chasing mountains

We gotta live as if it could be the last day Loving all the way as if this could be the last day

our lives

Tomorrow's just a notion in my mind

And so I'm singing out loud in the strangest
places

You made me believe, dare conceive everything's gonna work out fine

You bring a big change

Got me singing out loud in the strangest places

Nobody on earth would believe,

Could conceive that we'd be alright

You bring a big change

Feel a change coming 'round

It's a beautiful as they say

Peace, serenity

In mind I heard them say, "Heaven's inside and all around"

Oh, A Big change

Living like it's our last day breathing

Oh, We'll make a big big change

And we'll get through the weather and what ever comes, what ever comes, what ever comes our way

Making big big changes

And bring a big big change

Got me singing out loud in the strangest places

Nobody on earth would believe, could conceive,
that we'd be alright
And now I know how we'll walk these paces
I believe you and me gonna be alright (Bring about the biggest change)
We'll bring a big change
We'll bring a big big change
