

Little Bird

Music/Lyrics: Kathyjo Varco (February ©2009)

Hey, I know something's weighing heavily on your mind

You go on pretending everything is fine
But I know you're worried if you dare to jump high you might not fly

Take that leap of faith they talk about
'cause this ain't livin'
not when "getting" turns to sleepless nights
over what you did to survive another day

You get to thinking it's high time your dreams were more than a notion

God devised and you'll find when you step out and try everyday feels more satisfied Wide like an ocean high tide rushing in to wash away the doubt that you had in your mind
And the weather's fine
fly little bird fly

Hey, I know the first step is hard to take But you're gonna wonder why it took you so long, I know....

The things that burn you deep inside are no mistake Don't be afraid it's what you came here for
'cause this ain't livin'
not when getting turns to sleepless nights
over what you did to survive another day

You get to thinking it's high time your dreams were
more than a notion

everyday feels more satisfied

And the weather's fine
fly little bird fly

Most importantly you put your faith

Give your thanks to the one who's gonna see that you never ever fall

You get to thinking... it's high time your dreams were
more than a notion

Like an ocean at high tide rushing in to wash away the doubt

You get to thinking it's high time your dreams were
more than a notion

everyday feels more satisfied

And the weather's fine
fly little bird fly
